There will be services in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening. We cannot say who will fill the pulpit. Rev. Furbay is unable to preach at present.

Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart closed his protracted meeting at the Synphrit church Monday evening. He received seventeen probationers into the church as the result of his special work.

The ladies should hint to their husbands that there is a fine line of silverware, spoons, &c., that would make a substantial Christmas present at C. F. Hoffman's, the jeweler.

All who want to vote at the spring election must be registered not later than the 22nd of this month. Walter Spry will be at the Burns House to-day and to-morrow to register all for that purpose.

Trains 9 and 10, or the Driftwood accommodation, does not carry express since the new schedule went into effect. This reduces Express Agent Shaffer's hours of duty from sixteen to twelve hours a day.

Naughty Herald.

[Falls Creek Herald.] Here in Falls Creek when a man dies we bury him; but at Reynoldsville there are a lot of dead men in business. Live merchants advertise, dead ones don't.

A Gentle Reminder.

As the time is now about here for the various orders to elect their annual officers, we ask them to let us have a report of the same for publication. We will not refuse job work, heretofore done in the city, either.—New Bethlehem Indicator. Ditto in Reynoldsville.

New S. S. Officers.

The Methodist Episcopal Sunday school board met Monday evening and elected the following officers for that school for 1903: V. R. Pratt, superintendent; Solomon Shaffer, asst. supt.; A. T. Bing, sec.; Miss Carry Fink, asst. sec.; B. E. Hoover, treasurer; M. Fred. Reed, librarian; Port Harries, asst. lib.; Miss Lou Foust, organist; Miss Lizzie Binney, chorister.

No Paper Next Week.

After eight months of unceasing effort to give the people of Reynoldsville, those who borrow and those who subscribe, a readable paper, we will take a week off and get ready to commence the new year with a determination to give the people of this section a local paper that will stand on an equal with any of our surrounding neighbors. There will be no paper issued from this office next week.

Communion Services.

Communion will be held in the M. E. church next Sunday, and the services will be as follows: Preaching by Presiding Elder Beck at 7:30 Thursday evening of this week, followed by the quarterly conference. Love feast Sunday at 10:00 A. M., preaching at 11:00 A. M., followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper; Sunday school at 3:00 P. M., and preaching at 7:00 P. M. The Presiding Elder will not be present at the Sunday services.

Birthdays Surprise.

Friday, December 16th, was John Lowther's forty-second birthday and his sister, Mrs. William Barclay, got up a birthday surprise party for him. Seventeen gentlemen met at Mr. Lowther's home on Grant Street Friday evening while he was down town and the man of the house was surprised when he returned home and found so many callers at his place. Before home going time an excellent lunch was served and Mr. Lowther was presented with a new overcoat.

Thrice Shot.

Henry Iseman, E. C. Sencor and Martin Hetrick, who returned the forepart of last week from a "chase" for deer, bear and other game, each one shot a deer and yet they only brought one home with them. The deer they brought home, however, had three bullet holes in its hide that was made by three different guns, or in other words the three gentlemen took aim at the same deer. Through the liberality of Mr. Iseman we had the pleasure of eating some of the thrice killed animal, and we assure the gentlemen it was just as good as if only one man had shot it.

Ulceration of the Palate.

George Mellinger, superintendent of the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co., received a letter from L. J. McEntire, of whom we made mention last week of going to Philadelphia to be treated for some disease that had eaten a hole in the roof of his mouth, and the letter brought encouraging news to "Jack's" Reynoldsville friends. The doctors say it is an "ulceration of the palate," and that in three or four weeks he will be all right again. Mr. McEntire is not an indoor patient, therefore, he is "taking in the city" as much as his weakened condition will allow. We are glad to be able to make the above statement, and hope his new "roof" will not soon leak.

Four Good Lectures.

The Reynoldsville Lecture Association have made arrangements for four good lectures for the season of 1902-03. The lectures will be given in Centennial hall. The first lecturer is Major Henry C. Dane, who will be here on Thursday, December, 29th. Ora J. Gould, a humorist lecturer, on Jan. 26th; Frank Beard, "Chalk Talker," on February 22nd, and R. J. Clark some time in March. These are all good men and will, no doubt, please the people of Reynoldsville. The lectures will commence at eight o'clock. Our town has the reputation of appreciating a minstrel show or something of that character rather than a good lecture, and we hope when this lecture course is over that we may be able to contradict that statement by our people greeting each lecturer with a crowded house. Buy season tickets and save fifty cents on the four lectures.

One car feed, one car salt, one car hay at J. C. King & Co.'s.

An elegant line of hassocks at Priester's.

Driving calks 50 cents per 100 at Robinson's.

Don't miss your chance to buy shoes at and in some cases below cost at Arnold's.

A fine line of fur Moquette and Smyrna rugs at Priester's.

NEW SCHEDULE.

Slight Changes in Time of Passenger Trains Here.

Last Sunday a new schedule went into effect on the A. V. Ry., which will be found on first page of the STAR. The changes in time at this place are as follows: East bound: No. 9, leaves at 6:47 A. M., formerly 6:52; No. 1, due here at 1:00 P. M. same as before; No. 5, 6:50 P. M. as before, but runs on through to Driftwood, instead of stopping at DuBois, and makes connection with the P. & E. This will allow people to leave here at 6:50 P. M. and get to Philadelphia at 6:50 A. M. the following morning. West bound: No. 6, 7:40 A. M., formerly 7:30 A. M., and gets to Red Bank at the same time as before 10:00 A. M.; No. 2, 1:42 P. M., same as before; No. 10, 8:48 P. M.; formerly 9:08 P. M. This train runs through to New Bethlehem and stops over night in place of stopping at Brookville. No. 10 now leaves Driftwood at the same time as it did before, 6:35 P. M., but heretofore they hauled two or three cars of fast freight and this will be hauled by a through freight train hereafter and the accommodation can make twenty minutes faster time between Driftwood and Reynoldsville. The additional run from DuBois to Driftwood on the morning and evening accommodations makes it necessary to put on another passenger crew. M. J. McEntire will be the conductor and Pat. Horn the engineer. Daniel Foust, who has been conductor on the Driftwood accommodation for many years, will keep his old run and move to New Bethlehem. It would not be out of place to say right here that Samuel Lauck, James Martin, Daniel Foust and M. J. McEntire, passenger conductors on the Low Grade Div. of the A. V. Ry. are as pleasant and accommodating gentlemen as can be found on any railroad in the country. They are ever ready with a cheerful "good day" and always willing to do a favor for the traveling public when they can do so. The accommodation left New Bethlehem Monday morning with five passengers and reached Brookville with seventeen passengers. The accommodation leaving Driftwood on its first trip done considerable local passenger work between that place and Reynoldsville.

A New Coal Company.

About a dozen gentlemen representing considerable money are forming a new coal company that have been buying coal land in Winslow township, three or four miles south of Reynoldsville. The new company has a name and have applied for a charter and until it is granted the name is not for publication. The company has already purchased over fifteen hundred acres in the locality just mentioned and have expended $110,000 for the same. They have option on about the same amount of land lying west of that already purchased which they will look after inside of the next two weeks. The coal from the new territory above mentioned will be hauled to the nearest point on the B., R. & P. Ry. and over that road to the junction of the new road to Clearfield and will be hauled over the Beech Creek railroad. The new coal works will be nearer Reynoldsville than any other town of any consequence and there is no reason why our town will not be benefitted by the new opening. Maj. J. McCreight, of DuBois, figures conspicuously in the big coal deal. Silas Brooks got his cash, something over sixteen thousand dollars, from Mr. McCreight at DuBois last Thursday afternoon.

The Estray Law.

We have been asked several times by farmer friends what the law is in regard to disposing of stray animals that are found on their premises. The other day when "Squire McGaw" was out of his office we entered it and through the kindness of James Campbell were permitted to read the law on the above question, which was rather long but when boiled down is in substance as follows: "If you take up a stray animal you must, within four days give notice to your township clerk, who must make an entry of the same; then in thirty days you advertise the animal in your local paper; and ninety days after such advertisement has appeared, you apply to a Justice of the Peace to sell the animal. He issues a warrant to the Constable, who gives ten day's notice by posters, and then he sells it, and you get your pay for expenses. The penalty for taking a stray animal and not giving notice is $5 and besides this the owner can come upon your place and take it away without paying you anything." It would be a pretty good thing to cut this out and put it in the family bible for safe keeping for future reference.

Go to Alex. Riston's for guns for boys, where you can get a King Air Rifle for $1.00; Chicago Air Rifle for 90 cents, or a Flobart Rifle, with fifty cartridges, for $4.50.

W. C. Schultze & Son's have just received an immense stock of the choicest kinds of candies for the holidays. Their stock is complete. Step in and see it.

Fifty cent books for 18 cents at Alexander's drug store, successor to S. Reynolds.

Save money by buying your shoes at Arnold's closing out sale.

CUPID'S VICTIMS.

Jas. W. Stevenson and Miss Althea M. Davis Married.

In 1885, when Prof. Keath taught summer school in Reynoldsville, a boy and girl not far advanced in their teens, who were his pupils, became acquainted and a little germ of affection was planted in their young and susceptible hearts which has been growing as the years passed by until it culminated at 11:30 A. M. to-day at hymen's altar when Rev. E. T. Derr, pastor of the Reynoldsville Baptist church, performed the ceremony that united James W. Stevenson and Miss Althea M. Davis in the holy bonds of matrimony. The happy couple were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Davis, on Grant street, in the presence of a few near relatives. After the ceremony a dinner was to be served and the young couple will go to Pittsburg on the 1:42 P. M. train where they will remain a few days then return to Reynoldsville and remain several days and go to Brooklyn, N. Y., where they will board at the Mansion House for awhile before going to housekeeping.

The bride is the oldest daughter of "Squire" Davis, and is a handsome and accomplished young lady who has been known in Reynoldsville from her childhood days. She is a graduate of Bucknell's University, and took a post graduate course in history and literature at Wilson's Female College at Chambersburg, therefore, Mr. Stevenson has secured a wife suitable for a man in his vocation.

The groom is a son of Henry Stevenson, a well-to-do farmer of Winslow township, and is an especially bright and energetic young man who takes to newspaper business as a duck does to water. "Jim" as we know him, has had a covetous eye on the New York World for years, aiming to be a reporter on that sheet, and he now holds a good position on that paper. He started his newspaper career proper in Pittsburg several years ago. "Jim" does not only hold the position as a reporter on the World, but also writes for the Century and several other papers. We often read of the success of young men who are born in the country, but this is a real sample of what awaits young men in the country who have ability and then vim back of it to crowd them on. It is the farmer boys that make success in life's battle generally. We are glad to see a deserving lady of Reynoldsville marrying such a noble young man.

THE STAR extends congratulations and wishes the mariners on the matrimonial sea all the happiness and prosperity that they are capable of enjoying.

Unruly Billy Goats.

A runaway occurred in West Reynoldsville the other day that would have been more laughable to have seen than to read about. "Widow Murphy's Goat" is not to be compared to the frolicsome goats connected with our little story. The hero of the story we will call "Bert" for short. On the morning of which we are about to relate, and we might just here say it was Sunday morning, "Bert" hitched up a team of goats in a sleigh and took his little son to the commons below the school house for a drive. After driving around for a time "Bert" decided that it was time for him to have a ride, therefore the boy had to get out of the sleigh and let "papa" have a ride. But "Bert's" legs were a trifle long for the sleigh, or else the sleigh was too short for "Bert's" legs, at any rate "papa" was bound to ride, and he did. As soon as the man got "packed" into the sleigh box the unruly goats started down the hill for home at their best gait and in their recklessness they ran too close to an embankment and the team and driver rolled over several times before they struck bottom, but the driver held on to the lines and was none the worse for the tumble, but he discovered that a transmogrification had taken place, for one goat was looking him in the face and the other one was facing an opposite direction. Both goats were headed in the same direction, the boy got in the sleigh and rode home and the drive ended for that Sabbath.

Lecture Course Tickets. Season tickets for the lecture course in Reynoldsville will be on sale at Henry A. Reed's store on Thursday and Friday of this week. All persons who have promised to take season tickets are expected to get their tickets before Friday evening, for after that reserved seat tickets for Major Dane's lecture on the 29th will be sold to any person who calls for them. This gives the holders of season tickets an opportunity to get good seats for the entire course, and you will not be troubled about seats afterwards. If there is enough surplus after the four lectures, a fifth one will be given and those holding season tickets will be entitled to the fifth one free. The season tickets are $1.50 for four lectures. Reserved seat tickets for each lecture will be fifty cents.

Geese, turkeys, chickens and various kinds of meats for Christmas at Ed. Schultze's butcher shop. Leave your order early. Next door to Schultze's grocery store.

Holiday slippers at Robinson's 75 cents.

M. J. McEntire, who is now a regular passenger conductor on the A. V. Ry., will not move to Driftwood until spring. Mr. McEntire has a very pleasant home of his own on the corner of Grant and Fifth streets which he and his wife are loath to leave, and their many friends in Reynoldsville will be sorry to see them move.

Call at Priester Bros. for fine rockers and easy chairs.

A gentleman who travels from town to town doing business, never staying very long in one place, said to a representative of this paper the other day, "Reynoldsville is the best business town for its size in the country".
